THE SHOW MUST GO ON AND THE PALLADIUM IS GOING TO MAKE IT HAPPEN

Palladium Live! brings your favorite artists and performers right to your HOME.

[St. Petersburg, FL, February 2021] The Palladium is thrilled to announce their brand-new streaming series, Palladium Live! While traditional in-person live shows remain on hold for a while, the Palladium is staying live with their new streaming series of performances, featuring your favorite Palladium artists and performers doing shows you can enjoy in the comfort of your own home.

“It was vitally important to all of us at the Palladium that we adapt and continue to innovate so that we can continue our long history of providing quality performances to our patrons,” said Paul Wilborn, Palladium Executive Director.

The Palladium is documenting these performances with four, high-definition video cameras and professional sound production for them to be presented online through their streaming partner, Mandolin. Shows can be viewed on any computer or internet-capable device. Patrons can purchase tickets through the all-new Palladium website, mypalladium.org.

Palladium Live Schedule:

- March 5 - A concert by the Palladium Chamber Players, featuring Jeffrey Multer, Marika Bournaki and Julian Schwarz.
- *March 19 - Saxophonist Jeremy Carter, with his Rubber Band, featuring two keyboard players and a powerful rhythm section.
- *March 26 – Tampa Bay’s best bluesman, Damon Fowler, appears with a five-piece band.
- *April 9 – Our favorite jazz trio, La Lucha, appears with James Suggs and Ken Peplowski.
- *April 16 - An Evening of Dance Featuring Artists from BEACON.
- *April 23 – A special bossa nova show featuring Daniela Soledade and Nate Najar, plus an all-star band.
- April 30 – This Bird Has Flown, a jazz tribute to the Beatles, led by singer Ona Kirei.

*Members of the Palladium Creative Class of 2021

With its two venues, the 815-seat main concert hall Hough Hall, as well as its intimate award-winning 175-seat candlelit listening room The Side Door, and now event streaming, The Palladium fosters artistically and culturally diverse performing arts, educational and film programs that bring artists and audiences together in a first-class professional, affordable setting.
